THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN, sman Marshall Pays His Respects

to Jerry Simpson's Record. (Special telegram to the Dispatch.) WINCHESTER, VA., Sept. 12-The campaign was formally beened in Winchester last night by a joint discussion between Congressman James W. Marshall, Virginia, and Jerry Simpson, of Kansas. A large and attentive audience was present. Mr. Simpson opened in a speech of an hour. He confined his discussion to of an hour. He command the silver question, and denounced the Democratic, party for continuing the financial policy of the Republicans; and President Cleveland for using his political patronage in forcing the Democratic Congressmen to his views. He said that Cleveland is a monometallist, and is yieldating the Chicago platform, which favored bimetallism. SIMPSON'S RECORD.

Mr. Marshall replied in a speech of an hour and a half. He resented the imputahour and a half. He resented the imputa-tion of Cleveland betraying the party, and said that Simpson was denouncing the Democrats for legislation, for which the Republicans alone are responsible. After discussing the silver question, Mr. Marshall paid his respects to Simpson's political record, showing that he was a Republican at the time of the demonstra-tion of silver, in 1873. He characterized Simpson as, and warned the people against "A second invasion from Kansas." He then briefly discussed state issues, and concluded with an eloquent appeal to Virginians to stand by the faith and traditions of their fathers.

THE EX-POLICEMAN SENT ON. Preliminary Examination in the Diggs Wattford Assault Case.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., September 12—The Police-Court room in this city was nacked this morning, the occasion being the preliminary investigation of the charges againstler-Officer S, J. Diggs, charged with assaulting an aged negro named Lewis Wattford, an account of which appeared in to-day's Disparces. Standing room during the morning was at a premium, while every available foot of space in the corrider leading to the court-room had an occupant. Men stood on the outside of the building and pressed their noses against the window-panes in the hope of catching the evidence.
Attorneys A. C. Garrett and R. M. Lett appeared for the defence, while the State was represented by Commonwealth's Attorney, E. S. Robinson, assisted by James was represented by Commonwealth's Attorney, E. S. Robinson, assisted by James H. Field and C. H. Robinson, who had been employed by friends of Wattford.

Lewis Wattford, wearing a big bandage around his head, was the first witness called. It was plain that he had long since passed the half-century mark. After he had taken his seat the bandage was removed, showing half a dozen ugly wounds, each covered with court-plaster. The old man told the story substantially as related in the Disparcy.

The old man told the story substantially as related in the Disparcu.

The old man was followed on the stand by Mr. W. S. Hudgins, who was also assaulted by Diggs.

Other witnesses were examined who corroborated the foregoing statements. No witnesses for the defense were examined, and Justices Ford and Nimble who sat in the case required Diggs to give bond in the case, required Diggs to give bond in the sum of $500 to answer an indictment. The case has attracted wide-spread attention here, and will be eagerly watched sto

MR. MUNDAY'S FUNERAL TO-DAY. Details of His Fatal Accident-Interesting

Programme of the Races. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.) CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., September 12-The tuneral of Mr. James A. Munday, who was drowned in Trevillian's creek yesterday, will take place to-morrow at 11 o'clock. The particulars of the distressing accident, as near as can be learned, are ing accident, as hear as can be learned, are as follows: Just as his horse entered the stream one of the reins slipped from his hand, and in his efforts to recover it the horse was pulled out of the tord, overturning the buggy and throwing Mr. Munday out, when all were hurled down the steam. The right erm of Mr. Munday was broken and several severe bruises were about the body. A colored man threw him a pole after his arm was broken, but he could not retain his hold upon it in his disabled condition, and the raging current carried him farther down the stream. When his body was recovered, about a mile distant from the ford, it was near by the horse, which was apparently none the worse off for its experience. The buggy and harness have not yet hear found. not yet been found.

THE BACES.

An interesting programme of the races to be run at Mr. William Garth's on the 28th, inst., under the auspices of the Monticello Jockey Club, has been arranged. The size of the purses will depend on the amount subscribed; but the secretary says they will, in each race, amount to about $855.65. THE RACES. they will, in each race, amount to about $25 to first horse, and $10 to second.

100 ACRES OF CORN INJURED BY THE ROANOKE RIVER

RISING ON THE STATE FARMS Fine Crops in the First District-Trade Outlook in North Carolina Encouraging-State Affairs. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 12.-Mr. W. J. Hicks, of the penitentiary, left to-day to visit one of the penitentiary farms of the Roanoke river, on the Northamptor side. He says the water got into part of that farm and injured 100 acres of corn. It may be that some other damage was done. If the convicts had had time to repair the dike, partially torn away by the May freshet, at the Halifax farm, no damage would have been done the latter.
